Historical Society

Seeks Original Historical Essays (or sermons, plays, dramatic readings, worship services, or poetry)

Written By YOUTH (ages 12-19)
on Universalist, Unitarian, or Unitarian Universalist History

Entry Deadline: April 1, 2010

$350 First Prize, $150 Second Prize

First Prize Winner will be published on the Unitarian Universalist Historical Society website, may be published in the Journal of Unitarian Universalist History, will receive a year's membership in the Society and special book prizes, including an autographed copy of Mark Harris' Historical Dictionary of Unitarian Universalism.

Second Prize and any additional Honorees will be mentioned in our Newsletter, may be published on the Unitarian Universalist Historical Society website, and will receive a year's membership in the Unitarian Universalist Historical Society. Submitted essays become the publishable property of the Society. Entries which are published may be edited, excerpted, and posted in electronic media as well as printed.

Youth History Prize Guidelines: Entries must be original historical work, preferably based on primary sources or documented oral history. (An explanation of documentation, scope, and subjects must be submitted for oral history projects.) An entry is expected to be twelve to fifteen pages, double spaced, 12-point Times font, conforming to MLA or University of Chicago standards of bibliography, footnotes, and other documentary practices. Entries should address a subject, theme, or person in Universalist, Unitarian, or Unitarian Universalist history, pursuing a clear thesis, and identifying how the work is significant in the understanding and pursuit of Unitarian Universalist history. Youth ages 12-19 as of the date of submission are eligible to enter, and must sign the affidavit accompanying this announcement as to their eligibility, and pursuit of scholarship. The affidavit must be submitted attached to their essays. Please note: the affidavit requires the signature of a Minister, Religious Educator, or Congregational President who has read the entry.

Entries postmarked after April 1, 2010, will not be considered.

Submit your entry and affidavit on or before April 1, 2010 by mailing it to:

The Unitarian Universalist Historical Society,
attn: Youth History Prize,
27 Grove St,
Scituate, MA 02066.

Questions may be directed to the same address or to ggibson@uuma.org.

Entries will be considered based on their historical merit, style (spelling and grammar count, as well as elegance of speech), documentation and form. Evaluation will be done by a panel of a professional historian, a religious educator, a minister, and a lay reader selected by the Unitarian Universalist Historical Society.
